

WAKULLA COUNTY

FISCAL YEAR 2011-12 FINAL BUDGET

INTRODUCTION

Wakulla County is located in the North Central part of Florida and, according to the 2010 US Census, has a population of 30,776 people with 97% living in the unincorporated area of the County, and 3% within the City limits. The only ‘urbanized area’ is Crawfordville, which is located within the unincorporated area of the County. Crawfordville is centrally located within the County, along a main arterial route (US 319) and continues to be the fastest growing urbanized area in the County. The County’s growth is expected to occur primarily in this area, which is bound by the Apalachicola National Forest to the west, the St. Marks Wildlife Area and large wetland tracts to the east, Leon County to the North and US 98 to the South. There are 607 square miles within the jurisdictional limits of the county. The county has two municipalities, the City of St. Marks and the City of Sopchoppy. The traditional view of the County as a “rural” County can no longer be held. The recent population growth and development that have occurred have somewhat changed this traditional view. The urbanization of Crawfordville is due primarily to its proximity to areas that have long been transitioning. In recent years, downtown Crawfordville, the City of St. Marks and Panacea, have been the major focal points of development for commercial revitalization, economic development, tourist attraction and neighborhood improvement efforts. Through the adoption of special rezoning designation, business tax revenues and grant and loan resources, the County has made major progress in improving the roadways and infrastructure, beautification of parks and recreation areas, expansion of educational facilities, stimulate the real estate and construction markets. As of October 2011, Wakulla County unemployment rate was 7.6% which was up .9% from the June rate. In comparison, the State unemployment rate for October 2011 was 10.3% (Seasonally Adjusted) and the National unemployment rate was 9.0% during the same period.

Wakulla County is linked to the Interstate highway system for I-10, US-98 and US-319. The nearest airport with scheduled commercial airline service is the Tallahassee Regional Airport with 2 runways the longest is 8,000 feet. The deepest water port nearest to Crawfordville is Port St. Marks, which is located 24 miles away.

County Charter

At the General Election held on November 4, 2008, a majority of Wakulla voters approved for Wakulla County to be a Charter County. The Charter became effective on January 1, 2009 making Wakulla County the smallest Charter County out of twenty in the State of Florida. In 1968, the electors of Florida granted local voters the power to adopt charters to govern their counties. Charters are formal written documents that confer powers, duties, or privileges on the county. They resemble state or federal constitutions and they must be approved, along with any amendments, by the voters of a county. Under a charter form of government, the county has all the authorized powers of self-government except those specifically prohibited or pre-empted by the State. The charter approved by the people does the following:

- maintains the pre-existing government structure,
- encourages citizen participation,
- allows for the county to self govern itself on issues of local concern at the local level,
- provides additional power to the people to propose ordinances and charter amendments by the public petition process by obtaining 30% of the votes in each of the five commissioner districts to be voted on by the people
- allows for a charter review every 8 years

County Population

In 2000 the US Census Bureau estimated the county population at 22,863. By the year 2010, the population growth was estimated in 2010 to have reached 30,776 an estimated growth rate of 34.61% as compared to 17.7 % for the State of Florida. The 2000 U.S. Census estimated that in 2007, 21.8% of the population was at age 18 or younger and 11.9% were age 65 or over and the medium age was 39.5. The county ranks 49 most populous in the state of Florida and there is one person for every 51 square miles. WAKULLA COUNTY

FISCAL YEAR 2011-12 FINAL BUDGET

Pursuant to the laws of the State of Florida, all taxable real and tangible personal property must be assessed at fair market value, with some exceptions. Each year, as of January 1 real and personal property valuations are determined by the County Property Appraiser's Office. The County Property Appraiser submits the tax roll to the Florida Department of Revenue for review and determination of, a variety of things, but mainly whether the tax roll meets the requirements of Florida law regarding valuation. Each taxpayer is given notice by mail of the proposed property taxes and of the assessed property value for the current year, which includes the dates, times and places for the proposed scheduled budget hearings to be held. The property owner has the right to file an appeal of the determination of assessed value with the Value Adjustment Board (VAB).

The County has successfully used a conservative approach in order to deal with the increased demand for expansion of its various public services. The general philosophy of the County is that increased revenues from existing taxes and other revenue sources must provide the base for the expansion of public expenditures. The County has demonstrated its commitment to this philosophy over the past years. While the economic and public expenditure policies are subject to change and reevaluation, it is anticipated that the County will experience continued rapid and major growth that will not be disruptive to its current financial position.
